Interesting Bits About Carmel Business People

VILLAGE SANDWICH SHOP

"I am happy in Carmel; my business is good and is on the upward trend," said Mrs. McFarland of the Village Sandwich Shop. Along with Mrs. McFarland's constant advertising in the columns of Carmel Sun she has given her customers good wholesome food and a homey atmosphere which has caused her business to grow. Mrs. McFarland came here two years ago from Los Angeles and her meals, her chili beans, hamburger and pies have become almost household words. "My special aim is quality," said Mrs. "Mc," and her customers agree that she attains her end.

MCDONALD'S DAIRY

Perry McDonald, proprietor of McDonald's Dairy hit upon an ingenious plan for milk delivery during the war that gave Carmel much publicity as being different. When dairies in other cities raised their prices from 12 cents to 16 cents Mr. McDonald had ballots printed and passed among his customers asking them to vote on whether they would use neighborhood shrines which would facilitate delivery or would like an advance in price. The customers voted for the shrines and those shrines became one of the most Carmel-like things of Carmel. Neighbors formed the habit of meeting at the shrine each morning for a chat when they went for their milk, and they found the walk did them good. Later they vied with each other in putting up artistic shrines in novel designs and some of the shrines still remain and are much treasured by early Carmelites. Post cards were made of them, and verses were written about them.

"In those days I had to carry an axe and shovel in my car," said Mr. McDonald, "for often a tree blew down during the night and its roots obstructed the road, or the wheels spinned in the sand."

Mr. McDonald finds dairying much different today with his model machinery and up-to-date methods of handling milk.

THE JASMINE BUSH

Seven years to a day the Jasmine Bush was located in the Dummage property on Ocean Avenue, when they left August first and moved to the corner of Eighth and San Carlos, and since that time, Mrs. Bertha Hopkins and Mrs. J. L. Rockwell have been joined by Mrs. Englesby who has her dressmaking shop in connection with the shop. The name Jasmine Bush stands for quality gifts and the proprietors make every effort to get the new novelties for Carmel patrons. Customers are always surprised to find such low prices on such high class goods as can be found in the Jasmine Bush. Incidentally an advertisement of a sale is in this week's issue of the Sun and shoppers know the value of a sale at the Jasmine Bush.

BETSY ANN HOME FOOD

From a small beginning three years ago last October, the Betsy Ann Home Food shop has increased in size and patronage until it is one of the most popular of the many eating places and food shops in Carmel. Until the first of May, Mrs. B. L. Stone and Mrs. E. G. Browne were located in Seventh between Dolores and San Carlos but since that time they have been next door to El Fumidor and many people have the habit of dropping in for their delicious luncheons, all home cooked foods. Their window always displays a tempting array of dainty cakes, cookies, desserts, pies and good things of all descriptions, ready to take home and serve and Carmel Sun editors can testify they ARE good. Mesdames Browne and Stone are good boosters for Carmel Sun advertising.

QUALITY MARKET

One of Carmel's youngest and most successful business men is Fred Weber of the Quality Market. Mr. Weber started in business here in May and having lived up to his slogan of "Quality Meats," he has won a large number of repeating customers. Mr. Weber is located next door to Leidig's and is much pleased with his business here and with Carmel in general. He shows his faith in Carmel Sun advertising by telling his customers through our columns when he has special offerings.

FRANK, THE JEWELER

Thirteen years ago, last September, Charles Frank came to Carmel and started his jewelry and repair shop and today his name stands with the pioneers. Mr. Frank carries a fine stock of jewelry and novelties and has the confidence of the public in his line of watch repairing. Mr. Frank is a valued violinist in the Monterey Peninsula orchestra, and just for diversion, he plays the "African Harp," and how he loves that! Mr. Frank has been advertising in Carmel Sun, Mr. Frank's ad appeared in our very FIRST edition and he has never missed a week since.

ROMYLANE'S CANDY STORE

Seven years in Carmel—that's the Romylane Candy Store. Mr. and Mrs. Romine had been in Monterey 25 years before moving here and of course were not strangers to the city. Mr. Romine advertises with Carmel Sun when he is offering some special delicacy on his menu for the Romylane serves delicious meals as well as making delicious home made candies. And did you know they even make their own striped stick candy with all the kinds of flavoring that both youngsters and oldsters like?

P. G. & E. CONTRACT

BRIGHTENS THE SUN

With the beginning of our second year, we received from the Pacific Gas and Electric company a contract for their advertising throughout the year of 1934.

It is always a little difficult in dealing with such a large company as the P. G. and E. as to just who to thank for something nice or who to cuss when something goes wrong. In any event any mention of the big company's activities as they touch local people would be incomplete without giving three cheers for the very efficient manager of the local office, Lloyd Weir and his equally efficient assistant the charming Grace Hamilton.

DR. ROBITAILLE HAS

OFFICE IN LEIDIG BLDG.

Entering the Sun's list of advertisers with the beginning of its second year is Dr. M. J. Robitaille (pronounced Ro-be-tie). Dr. Robitaille comes from Salinas where he has practiced in his profession of chiropodist for the past five years, and is fast building up a practice here, spending Monday and Thursday of each week in his office in the Leidig building. He is a graduate of the College of Chiropody of San Francisco and after finishing his course he remained there for a while as a teacher.

EDITORIAL

VOTE FOR THE SEWER BONDS

The Carmel Sanitary District is making official publication of a resolution calling for an election to vote bonds to the approximate sum of $84,000 for the purpose of modernizing the District's sewer system. It is the duty of every voter who has Carmel's welfare at heart to see that this bond issue carries with a big majority. It is an open fact that the present septic tank is unsafe to use and has been in use for several years only on conditional permission by the State Sanitary Engineer.

This undertaking is made possible under conditions probably never again available, the government's PWA offer. Under this plan the government makes an outright gift of $24,000 and then purchases the remainder of the issue, some $60,000 dollars and carries it for only four and a half per cent until paid.

And the important fact must not be lost sight of that the project will be nearly all labor, both skilled and unskilled and the expenditure of this amount in Carmel at this particular time will be a life saver not only to the man needing work but to every business man in the city. There is no logical reason to vote against the issue if it is properly understood and in order that all may know the Sun is publishing in this issue a copy of the resolution calling for the election. Read it carefully and then vote FOR the proposition.

NEW DANCE ORCHESTRA ORGANIZED IN CARMEL

Under the name of Bartholomew's Californians, a new dance orchestra has been organized in Carmel and the Sun carries an ad this week from them for the first dance of the season, to be held at the Manzanita Club Saturday night, February 3.

The orchestra comprises four members and they are rehearsing the latest in dance music and promise some enjoyable dances. A small charge of 75 cents a couple will be made at Saturday night's dances and excellent refreshments will be provided.

DANCE AT SERRA CRESPI WAS MOST ENJOYABLE

The dance given by the Old Mission Guild at Serra Crespi hall last Saturday night was a most enjoyable affair and the guild members and hosts of friends are looking forward to the card party to be given at the hall February 6, next Tuesday evening.

DRIVING WHILE DRUNK; GETS STIFF SENTENCE

"Any man who takes chances and wittingly endangers the public must take the consequences," so said Judge George Wood to Mort Beckwith, who pleaded guilty to having driven a car through Carmel Sunday while in an intoxicated condition. Beckwith acknowledged that not only was he drunk but that his car had no brakes. Judge Wood gave him a sentence of 90 days in jail or a fine of $200 and he chose the fine.

Officer Charles Guth was standing on the corner of Ocean and San Carlos when Beckwith with a companion, drove by, passing the stop sign and running into the curb. Guth started after him and he speeded up. When Mr. Guth caught him at Fourth street he placed the companion in the back seat and took the driver to a physician where he secured a certificate saying Beckwith was under the influence of liquor.

The defendant told Judge Wood it was the first time he had been drunk for seven and one-half years. He has only recently come to Pacific Grove from Pendleton, Ore., and is employed on cannery row.

EDWARD BERWICK, PIONEER, PASSES AWAY

Carmel old timers join in mourning the passing of Edward Berwick of Pacific Grove, who died this week at the age of 81 years and three days.

Mr. Berwick was closely identified with the affairs of the peninsula since the early days and was the first to start growing pears in Carmel Valley. "Berwick Orchards" is a landmark in the valley.

The deceased was an educated man of high ideals and was an ardent supporter of peace.

GLORIA STEWART BRINGS COUGHLIN TO LIMELIGHT

Unless Gloria Stewart's studio plays "fair" she threatens to go way off to China and work with Joseph Coughlin, former Carmel editor, on a magazine which he edits in Shanghai.

Miss Stewart is quoted as saying:

"Before I was an actress I was secretary to Joseph A. Coughlin, who was managing editor of a magazine in San Francisco and Carmel. He now has a paper in Shanghai, and he wrote me not long ago saying he could use me on the paper. I'm giving the studio one week in which to make up its mind."

BARDARSON WRITES ON EDUCATION EMERGENCY

We have been hearing about the emergency in this; the emergency in that and now for the first time we are beginning to hear about the emergency in education. The schools in the plea for economy were the first to suffer and they suffered in the largest measure. Thousands of schools have been closed and many thousands of children have been deprived of the educational facilities and constructive activities that the people of the United States have looked upon as the birthright of each child.

The pendulum swung so far that people began to feel alarmed and with a fresher perspective in the light of new developments are coming strongly to the support of the schools in an attempt to retain and re-establish the most fundamental, democratic institution, the free public school, in its most highly developed form.

In California the sales tax has proven to be a boon to the school children and to property owners. Although our schools had decreased their budgets in greater amount and per cent than the decrease in the budgets of local, municipal and state governmental budgets combined the pressure of public utility controlled news strove to secure the further demoralization of the public school. The deflection of this pressure was a singular victory for the common people and the common school. Harold Ickes, Secretary of the Interior, stated recently, "The most important question requiring an answer today at the hands of the American people is: 'What are we going to do about our public schools?' Shall we maintain them on such a basis as will give our children an education in those essentials absolutely necessary to equip them as individuals and as citizens to lead such lives as men and women must be equipped to lead in a self-governing republic of free men, or are we going to let them slip back into an era of unenlightenment, bigotry, and ignorance?" The answer of a free people in a free country could not be other than, "We stand for the free public school in its highest form as the most effective agency by which intellectual, cultural and characteristic advancement may be furthered."

O. W. BARDARSON

WONDERFUL CARVINGS ON DISPLAY AT DAR ESALAM

Carmel people have been dropping into Dar EsSalam singly and in groups this week to see the wonderful carvings on display there.

The work was done by Mr. Afana and his brother in Palestine and is representative of the different periods of Christ's life.

The foundation was carved from olive wood and was then veneered with mother of pearl, showing indefinite patience and genius. The figures are perfect in detail and of exact proportions.

Mr. Afana invites through the Sun his friends in for a lecture on the pieces Friday evening at 8 o'clock.

BROTHER LOCAL WOMAN DIRECTING NEW PICTURE

Roland V. Lee is director of "I Am Suzanne," which will be shown at the Golden State Feb. 27 and 28 and in Carmel later. Mr. Lee is a brother of Mrs. Guy O. Koepf of Carmel.

I don't know anything about George McMenamin's background present occupation or future aspirations but I do know that as William in "Twenty Lascivious Turtles," he made the character so real that one felt he must be that kind of a boy. I should like to see him in still further roles.

In a cast such as was assembled for Mr. Kuster's production now running at the Carmel Community Players one had to be especially talented to excel the others, for they were every one perfect in their parts, Vera Hunter as Betty, Tom Crostwaite as Henry, Janet Large as Grace, Everett Sholund as Jake and Ralph James as Isadore. Mr. Kuster shows his talent as director by choosing characters who can best play the parts assigned.

I was curious as to the title, even as everyone else, and since knowing why it was called "Twenty-Lascivious Turtles," I think most any other name would have been better.

However it is a sparkling comedy, well done, having a laugh in every line and you are assured an excellent evening's entertainment if you go Friday night or Sunday night, since you will have these two opportunities.

DESCENDENT PIONEERS

IN CURRENT SHOW

With the addition of Miss Vera Hunter to the cast of "Twenty Lascivious Turtles" now playing at the Community Playhouse under the directorship of Edward Kuster, some of the early pioneer history of Carmel is brought to mind.

Miss Hunter, a daughter of Wesley R. Hunter, is a granddaughter of Mrs. A. J. Hunter, who built the first house in Carmel, 35 or 40 years ago and was one of the founders of this lovely little city.

Miss Hunter is also a relative of Delos Goldsmith, one of the old pioneers, and a distant relative of Oliver Goldsmith, the poet.

WINIFRED CHRISTIE WINS AUDIENCE IN PROGRAM

Winifred Christie playing the Moor double keyboard piano has come and gone and those who heard her play at the Denby-Watrous gallery Friday night or Saturday morning were delighted with a new sensation, for aside from the fact that the piano is an innovation in musical instruments Winifred Christie herself is a true artist.

The quality of the tones she produced, their smoothness and sureness were a delight.

The musician kindly consented to give a concert for the school children Saturday morning and a large number were enabled to hear her who would otherwise have missed the opportunity.

The gallery was comfortably filled Friday night and if Miss Christie comes again, there will be a still larger audience.

Gieseeking Play for Music Society Saturday Night

The great Gieseeking, pianist of pianists, whom Carmel has twice tendered a great ovation, will close the Winter Series of the Carmel Music Society in a recital at the Sunset School Auditorium tomorrow evening, at eight-thirty o'clock.

Walter Gieseeking was born in Lyons, France, in 1895. However, he is thoroughly German by blood and training. He has been famed as a most exceptional pianist since he was eighteen. His talent showed itself conclusively at the age of four. Since his first success in New York in 1926, he has been recognized in America as one of the greatest of living pianists. There are many who prefer him to all others.

Gieseeking's program tomorrow evening is, as always, satisfying and comprehensive. It is as follows:

SCHOOL NOTES

The final results of the student body election were as follows: president, Dick Tevia; vice president, Doris Crossman; secretary, Norris Thompson; business manager, Jack Pelton; faculty advisor, Miss Baer.

There will be an informal assembly 11:30 o'clock Friday. Seventh and eighth grade pupils will present current event topics. The new student body officers will be introduced and installed at this meeting.

Markham Johnston's team won the basketball tournament championship. Over sixty boys in grades 4 to 8 signed up for the tournament. Eleven teams were selected and the players on the winning team will receive a small letter "S". The interest and enthusiasm of the boys speaks well for the success of the tournament. The plan of giving each boy an opportunity to play on a team has proven to be a grand incentive.

The heavyweight basketball team showing greatly improved form trounced the Pacific Grove quintette by the score of 24-10. Markham Johnston was the outstanding player with his speedy floor work and accurate shooting. Allan Lane and Merle Dorsett played a strong game at the forward and guard positions. These three boys were promoted to the Monterey Union High School on Monday so the task of building a new team is under way. Harry Butts and Bob Irvin will form the nucleus of the new team and the other positions will be filled by candidates selected from Forrest Nichols, Bud Brownell, Billy Short, Dick Tevia, Joe McEldowney and Franklin Hayford.

The midget five lost a closely contested game of basketball to the P. G. flyweights.

Carmel Valley

Carmel Valley Pioneer Passes Away

With the passing of Edward Berwick, Monterey peninsula lost another of its pioneers. He died just three days after his ninety first birthday. He had been in failing health for the past month and his death was not unexpected.

Mr. Berwick was born in London, England, January 25, 1843. In 1865 he came to America, coming the same year to Monterey county where he operated a large cattle ranch in the southern part of the county. In 1867 he married and two years later transferred his activities to Carmel Valley where he taught school and later in 1879 planted the first pear orchard in Carmel Valley.

In 1885 he began his career as a public speaker and lecturer, his main topic being a canal across the Isthmus of Panama and Parcel Post both of which later became a reality. He was a staunch advocate of World Peace and up to within the last year spoke before many schools and assemblies on that topic.

After he retired as an orchardist he made his home in Pacific Grove where his wife died and later in 1910 he married Miss Marion A. Rouse who survives him. He took a deep interest in all civic affairs and held several public offices. He spent much of his spare time in beautifying the vacant lots along the waterfront near his home and later these lots became a park known as Berwick Park.

Besides his widow, he is also survived by a daughter, Mrs. Mabel Mason, present owner of Berwick Orchards, and four grandchildren, Edward Berwick, Jr., Mrs. Leo Lutes, Edith and Lydia Mason all of Carmel Valley.

Fruit Growers Have Helpful Meeting

On Tuesday, January 30 the Directors of the Carmel Valley Fruit Growers association met with representatives of the Pear Growers Protective League at Del Monte to discuss the benefits to be derived from membership in the League.

The object of the Protective League is to aid the AAA in solving problems arising in the pear industry. The League has a membership of 90 per cent of the Fall and winter pear growers in California.

Mr. and Mrs. George Frey left this morning on a business trip which will take them first to Pasadena and after a short stay there, to Iowa. Mr. and Mrs. Frey do not know yet whether or not they will return to the valley. Mr. and Mrs. Fred Machov are taking their place as caretakers of the Reginald Johnson Ranch.

Friends of Mrs. Stanley Ollason will be sorry to hear that she is in the El Adobe Hospital recovering from an operation. She is reported as getting along fine but it will be several weeks before she will be able to return home.

Miss Eunice Scarlett who has been unable to attend school for the past two weeks due to an operation on her ear is now very much improved and will return to school in the near future.

Mrs. J. E. Wolter returned home Saturday after spending a week in Pacific Grove with her sister Mrs. C. E. Wallace. She reports that her niece, Mrs. Henry Barnes of Cachagua who for the past month has been seriously ill in the El Adobe hospital is very much improved.

Mrs. B. H. Schulte attended a Zone Meeting in Prunedale on Parent Education. The meeting was conducted by Miss Anne Olsen, Home Demonstration agent. Miss Hally Flack, Child Development Specialist of the University of California was the speaker.

Miss Sally Scarlett has returned home after spending the past month in San Jose with her sister Irene who is attending San Jose State. Trueman Scarlett who has been in Sacramento since the first of the year has also returned home bringing with him George Riehl of Santa Clara.

The Carmelo Home Department will meet Tuesday, February 6 at the home of Mrs. Andrew Stewart. The topic under discussion will be Improving Home Grounds.

Many people took advantage of the lovely weather over the weekend by spending it at their Robles del Rio homes. For those who enjoy outdoor amusement Robles has an outdoor swimming pool, riding stables and a lovely golf course.

WOMEN VOTERS WILL HEAR ROSENSHINE

Albert C. Rosenshine, a San Francisco attorney who is widely known throughout the state will be the featured speaker at the February 14th meeting of the Monterey Peninsula League of Women Voters. He will outline and discuss the various forms of taxation. The program at this meeting has been arranged by the Efficiency in Government section of which Mrs. Chas. T. A. Cabanis is chairman.

Since commencing to practice law in 1906, the scope of Mr. Rosenshine's activities has been wide. These are but a few of his varied interests. From 1919 to 1927, he was a member of the State Legislature. Following this, he acted as the State Banking attorney for four years. During the period from 1927 to 1929 the speaker served on the Board of Governors of the State Bar Association. At present he is Vice-President of the California Conference of Social Work and Chairman of the Adult Center for Social studies in San Francisco.

As the subject of taxation is one of general concern, this meeting is being opened to the men as well as to all interested women. The Hotel San Carlos solarium will be the meeting place of the League this month. A forty cent luncheon will be served promptly at noon, the meeting adjourning at 2 o'clock.

Reservations should be made as early as possible with Mrs. F. W. Ten Winkle in Carmel, phone 892 or with Mrs. Harry Clark, in Monterey, phone 4006.

SEÑOR BRAVO NOT TO BE MARRIED AT PRESENT

The intended marriage of Señor Bravo, Mexican consul and Mrs. Doris Black Martin, which was scheduled for last Friday, has been cancelled. Mrs. Martin declined to give reasons after returning to her home in Fresno from Monterey.

CARMEL DIFFERENT

Carmel is different. We spell Thirteenth with an extra H, as witness the signs along that street, "Thirteenth and San Antonio," and so forth.

MOST POPULAR BOOK DISTRIBUTED THIS WEEK

A popular book made its appearance this week in a new edition as The Pacific Telephone and Telegraph company distributed more than 11,000 copies of the February 1934 telephone directory in Monterey and San Benito counties.

Delivery of the directory began on Monday and was scheduled for completion on Wednesday. Approximately 1700 copies were being received by Carmel telephone subscribers, according to Manager R. P. Sexton.

Telephone book reviewers found on page 11 an innovation hinting of far places and strange lands; in a partial list of the foreign countries that may easily be reached from Carmel via overseas radiotelephone service.

Manager Sexton, in discussing overseas service, said: "A call to any telephone in 53 countries and places on six continents may be made by simply asking for Long Distance."

"We need not be concerned that the Germans look for their telephone numbers in a 'Far Speaker Book' (Fernsprechkuch) or that the Dutch peruse a 'Naamlijst voor den Telefoonist' (Name list for the telephone service)" that the people of South Africa use a 'Telefon Adresboek' or that Copenhagen uses a 'Telefon Havnboeg' (Telephone Name-book). Linguists among the telephone operators in San Francisco, New York City and London arrange all the details on overseas calls."

Nature lovers will find among the names in the directory one or more, Bass, Wolf, Bird, Lion, Shepherd, Sun, Stern, Bush, Trout, Wood, Shore and Berry. Calm is requested by a Silent and a Tutt. Royalty is represented by Prince, King and Kaiser, and democracy by presidential surnames including Adams, Cleveland, Hayes, Hoover, Taylor, Jackson, Pierce, Lincoln, Grant and others. Harmonizing with the hint of spring in the green cover of the new directory are Garland, Flowers, Branch and Rose.

POSTAL EMPLOYEES PROTEST WAGE CUTS

The irreconcilability of the government policies of continuing wage cuts for its own employees while demanding increased wages and shorter hours for private employment is dramatically accentuated, according to the February issue of the Union Postal Clerk, official organ of the National Federation of Post Office Clerks, by a direct conflict of statement between two government agencies as to increases in the cost of living.

A cost of living survey conducted by the Bureau of Labor Statistics presented such figures to the President that, under the mandatory features of the Economy Act, he was unable to restore any part of a 15 per cent cut in the wages of government employees. The Economy Act predicates returns of such cut upon increases in the cost of living during six month periods one of which ended January 1 last.

This deprived government employees of any hope of wage restoration until July 1. In the meantime, legislation continuing 10 per cent wage cut through the fiscal year beginning July 1 was approved by the House Appropriations Committee and tacked onto the first appropriation bill reported by it.

Testifying before this very committee, at the hearings at which this continuation of the wage cut was approved, Brigadier General Frank T. Hines, head of the Veterans' Administration, stated that much higher prices are now being paid for supplies. He predicted still further increases. Among other items listed by him was an increase as high as 90 per cent for flour, 50 to 150 per cent for coal and fuel oil and increases ranging from eight to 120 per cent for other articles commonly purchased by households.

"Reduced to its lowest terms," the Union Postal Clerk says, "it appears that one agency of the government, dealing with wages of government employees, finds no increase in prices upon which to base restoration of wages and salaries. At the same time, another agency, engaged in the buying of supplies for the government, finds heavier appropriations necessary because the same classes of commodities purchased by households have materially risen and will probably go still higher."

NEW ROAD NOW BUILT TO BIG CREEK CANYON

It won't be long now until the Carmel-San Simeon highway will be open since less than two miles separates the two crews, the one working south being located at Big Creek and that working north at Vicente canyon.

Interesting Bits About Carmel Business People

IMELMAN'S SPORTSWEAR

It happened that the Sun's birthday coincided with clearance sales from three Carmel business houses this week. Imelman's Sport-Wear being one of the three. Imelman's is a store for Carmel to be proud of for its shelves and cabinets are stocked with high grade merchandise both domestic and imported and people come from all over the peninsula to get their favorite makes of clothing and shoes. You will have to go upstairs to realize the size of Mr. Imelman's trade in men's suits, for here you will find long rows of clothing of every size and color and yardage of the finest wools to be made into suits by their tailor, Mr. Ham. Imelman's has been a Carmel institution since 1925. May it live and prosper. Mrs. Grace Glenn is connected with the store and assists Mr. Imelman in serving the public.

TURANO'S

One of the Sun's few out-of-town advertisers is Turano's on Railroad avenue, past Del Monte. Mr. Turano has been a consistent advertiser during practically the whole year. Mr. Turano says he brings many loads of coal and wood to Sun advertisers. He started with a small roadside stand but has kept adding until he has a large open air market and if his plans materialize he will soon open up a much larger place.

MARIE McFARLAND

Prominent among the business additions during the past year is Marie McFarland's Beauty Shop. Mrs. McFarland purchased the very latest in equipment and installed them in well lighted booths over the Town and Country shop. She is now being assisted by her sister, Mrs. Patricia Ingram, an operator of wide experience. Mr. and Mrs. McFarland have recently moved into Little John and are enjoying Carmel's sunshine.

TOWN AND COUNTRY

You can find gowns suitable for both town and country at the Town and Country Shop, owned by Mrs. Ann James and G. W. McFarland. This firm is also a new one during the past year but it is a very lusty baby, looking forward to its birthday April 11. Gowns from this institution are being modeled in the play now running at the Community Playhouse. Gowns, hats, coats, sweaters, skirts and hosiery make up the line carried in this busy store and with their city shopping service you are certain of just what you want almost as soon as you decide on it.

CARMEL HARDWARE

The Carmel Hardware has only recently closed a sale on paints when they offered that commodity at $1.66 a gallon. Mr. Perkins, the owner, was new to Carmel during the year but has taken his place in the community life so completely that he is not considered a stranger. He has increased his stock of hardware and has put in a key making machine since his arrival and plans many other improvements.

LITTLE SHOP IN THE LITTLE HOUSE

It is amazing to look back and see how many businesses have started here in the past twelve months. One of the most popular of the new places is "The Little Shop in the Little House." The shop is new to Carmel, but Mrs. Edwards, the proprietor, has been a Carmel property owner and taxpayer for the past nine years. Mrs. Edwards is the widow of the late George Thornton Edwards, song writer and author, one of the best known of his books being "The Youthful Haunts of Longfellow." Those who come from Maine know that Mr. Edwards wrote the Maine song, "State of Maine, My State of Maine." Mrs. Edwards has a very charming daughter in "June Delight," a dancer, who has come to Carmel with many recommendations from people in high places. We haven't told you much about the business but you'll be delighted with the things in the Little Shop.

MINGES' GROCERY

One of the older established businesses in Carmel is the Carmel Grocery, owned by Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Minges, who with their charming daughter, Miss Marian, have hosts of friends and customers. "I take issue with the statement that chain stores can undersell service stores because they buy cheaper," said Mrs. Minges. "Our prices are as low as chain store prices on the same quality of merchandise and we deliver and we accommodate our customers. The chain stores have long put out propaganda that they sell cheaper and the chant has been taken up by the public who do not investigate." Mr. and Mrs. Minges own a lovely home in Eighty Acres and have been in Carmel nine years.

CARMEL MUSIC SOCIETY

Rivalling Sunset School as an asset to Carmel is the Carmel Music Society. Organized in October 1927 it has carried on and grown year by year until it is known far and wide. The first program was held in the Theatre of the Golden Bough, before an audience of 300, and the series which have been held in Sunset auditorium since it was built never fail to draw from the entire peninsula. The Vienna Choir Boys and Roland Hayes, negro tenor, have drawn the largest crowds, every seat being taken and extra chairs being put in at the latter and many being turned away at the former. The success of the society is due largely to those who have gotten behind and pushed. They brought to Carmel, Michel Penha who made his home here all last summer and rehearsed the Monterey Peninsula Orchestra, a "child" of the society. They put on a summer series last year that attracted visitors and gave many pleasant evenings to music lovers.

There are not enough columns in the Sun to do justice to this society.

The fourth and last number of its winter series will be held Saturday night of this week when Gieseeking, the great pianist will entertain.

EL FUMIDOR

El Fumidor, Haller's or any other name by which you designate it is still Carmel's leading store for magazines and smokes. More than 300 magazines, covering all subjects grace the shelves of El Fumidor. When you call for your favorite tobacco or cigarette it is there, and your favorite city daily may be had for the asking. People like to drop in at El Fumidor and chat with Mr. or Mrs. Haller or with Neil Twilgar depending on which is on duty.

DENNY-WATROUS

One of the most attractive places in Carmel and one of the leading influences for culture is the Denny-Watrous Gallery which brings exhibitions of famous artists, and many noted lecturers and performers. Misses Denny and Watrous are indefatigable workers in the Carmel Music Society and will be found backing every movement for the cultural uplift of the community. Carmel would not be Carmel without this institution and they are deserving of the support of everyone who has the interests of Carmel at heart.

STELLA'S DRY GOODS

With the exception of L. S. Slewin, Mrs. J. B. McGrady leads in years of service to Carmel people. In 1914 she was associated with her sister in "Stella's" and for the past several years has been the owner. Now Stella's is an institution and no matter what you are looking for in the dry goods line you can usually find it at Stella's. The history of the beginnings of the store reads like fiction and perhaps some day some one will have time to put this and many other interesting things of early life in Carmel into one volume. Mr. and Mrs. McGrady are the parents of a pretty little daughter, Ellen Pearl, who is one of the popular students at Sunset school.

CARMEL LAUNDRY

One of the busiest places in Carmel is the Carmel Laundry. W. E. Mack, the proprietor, has installed all the latest equipment for laundering clothes nicely with the least wear and gives Service that Counts. One used to hear complaints of laundries losing articles but none are heard of the Carmel Laundry. The Carmel Laundry located in its own building on Junipero street, is a credit to Carmel and in keeping with the style of architecture here. Patronizing the home laundry means work for Carmel people and loyalty to your own community.

MANY OTHERS TOO

We had no idea when we started to write up our supporters that it would be such a colossal undertaking. We should like to give to each and every customer during the year a special notice but through lack of time we have been compelled to group a few. To the following we express our appreciation: The Sign of the Papoose, which advertised Navajo rugs; Dolores Inn, the restaurant which announced its opening; Attorney Ross who runs a professional card; Freeman's Mortuary of Monterey, a constant customer; Dr. James Finley, dentist of Monterey, carrying a professional card; Dr. Carl Fagan of Monterey, carrying professional card as osteopath; Miss Fanny Reeves, Lincoln street, palmist; the Pet Shop in Monterey advertising bird seed and dog remedies; John Roscelli, Carmel's efficient garbage hauler; the Peninsula Typewriter Exchange at Monterey owned by Fritz Warrmann of Carmel; Mr. Robley at the Monterey Water Company's office; E. C. Poklen who advertised his bicycles and closing out sale; O. W. Holm, who announced his removal to the Carmel Gar-

VINING'S MARKET

An old established business with a new proprietor is Vining's Market purchased last fall from the Vining Estate by John McKay, for some time a valued employ of the late George Vining. Mr. McKay has continued the conservative methods of the store so thoroughly that the splendid service to the customers was not disrupted for a minute. Mrs. McKay assists her husband with his book work.

One of the most delightful parties held at the Russian Tea Room in Monterey recently was that given by Mrs. Barton Friday afternoon.

George W. Ulrich and family who have been occupying the E. N. Wright cottage for the past three or four months left Tuesday for the Big Sur district where Mr. Ulrich will be in charge of the construction work on the highway.

Mrs. J. L. Rockwell, Mrs. Bertha Hopkins and Mrs. Esther Engleby drove to Salinas Friday where Mrs. Hopkins was summoned as a jury member. When the case was postponed, the three ladies spent the rest of the day picnicking and visiting different points in that section.

She received many lovely gifts.

HOSPITAL FUND DRIVE IS BEGUN

Twenty physicians of the Monterey Peninsula met over the week-end to discuss further plans for a community hospital, and showed their interest by subscribing approximately one third of the fund necessary to take over the Grace Deere Velle Clinic. It was announced today by Dr. R. A. Koehner.

Present were: Drs. W. M. Gratiot, Martin McAuley, Paul Hunter, David Matske, John Gray, Edwin F. Kehr, R. A. Koehner, Guy Rukke, S. W. Hastings, J. A. Swigart, J. B. McCarthy, A. A. Merrill, M. N. Levick, Margaret Arehart, Frank Hart, Spencer Hoyt, R. A. Workman, W. L. Teaby, John S. Cluen and Co-vault.

Plans are being perfected to raise the balance of the amount by public subscriptions in large and small amounts. Byington Ford has volunteered to coordinate efforts to raise the funds. His office in Carmel will serve as headquarters for the workers, receipt of funds and distribution of information. — Thursday's Herald.

PETER J. GORDON DIES IN BEVERLY HILLS

After a short illness, Peter J. Gordon passed away at a hospital in Beverly Hills January 11, according to word received by Carmel friends.

Mr. Gordon was well known in Carmel, having spent last summer here with Mrs. Gordon who had been a frequent visitor here for 15 years. About a year ago they decided to go to Beverly Hills hoping the change would benefit Mr. Gordon's health.

Mr. Gordon was general superintendent of Republic Iron and Steel of Youngstown, Ill. Besides his widow he leaves to mourn his loss a son and two grandchildren and hosts of friends.

DENNY-WATROUS GALLERY PAYS PAST DUE LICENSE

Realizing that the laws of the city are not retroactive, but hoping for a more equitable business license in the near future the Denny-Watrous gallery paid their license in full Wednesday evening.

The Gallery is one of Carmel's greatest cultural assets but comes under a list of businesses required to pay a fee of $5 per quarter. They have tried several times throughout the year to have their rate reduced, feeling they were unduly taxed. The majority of the residents of the city feel as they do and hope that the council will act soon to relieve the shops and places of entertainment.

LEAK IN BATTERY CELL

Battery cells are not above springing a leak now and then. If, in having the battery filled with water, one cell consistently needs more than the others, the chances are that it is leaking according to L. G. Evans, general service manager of the National automobile club. The remedy is to take the battery to an expert and have it repaired at once.

MISS IDA BURGE WEDS

AT ST. JOHN'S CHAPEL

Miss Ida Burge, popular young woman of Carmel, was wedded this, Thursday, afternoon to Elford McDonald, at St. John's Chapel in Del Monte.

Miss Burge is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Burge, a graduate of Monterey High and until a few months ago, an employee of the P. G. & E.

The groom is also a graduate of Monterey High and is a son of Mr. and Mrs. George McDonald of Monterey. Both the young people stand high among their friends and associates. Mr. McDonald is with the Monterey Merchants' patrol.

Many friends wish the couple a long and happy wedded life.

MAINTENANCE DOES PAY

Motorists today often are heard to say that car care on a detailed scale is not worth while since "when you go to trade the car in they give you only so much, regardless of condition." That's a poor argument on two scores says L. G. Evans, general service manager of the National Automobile Club. First, condition does count with the dealer and, second, it is ridiculous to drive an inefficient car when a little judicious care will make it ship-shape. Car-care is as important today as it ever was; more so, in fact.

MONTHLY MEETING OF CARMEL WOMAN'S CLUB

The Club is fortunate in securing Mrs. F. L. Cole as its speaker for its meeting on Feb. 5. The place is as usual the Girl Scout House and the time 2:30 p.m. Mrs. Cole has long been a resident of the Orient and a careful observer of the customs and civilizations of the East. Her subject will be: "The Eurasian, The Tragedy of the Orient."

BUSINESS MEN MEET AND ELECT OFFICERS

For the purpose of electing officers and taking up many questions pertaining to Carmel the Business Men's Association met at Pine Inn Monday night. E. A. H. Watson was re-elected president, Bernard Downes, vice president, Barnet Segal, secretary and Dan Chew, treasurer. The question of life, guard and boat at the beach and a rope to mark the danger line was discussed and will be taken up with the council.

It was decided to print a booklet telling of Carmel, its beauties and attractions and containing pictures of its beauty spots.

Many other things of interest were discussed but not definitely decided upon.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCH
"Keep yourselves in the love of God, looking for the mercy of our Lord Jesus Christ unto eternal life." These words from the Epistle of Jude comprise the Golden Text to be used tomorrow in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, branches of The Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Mass.

The subject of the Lesson-Sermon will be "Love." Included among the Scriptural selections will be: "My little children, let us not love in word, neither in tongue; but in deed and truth. And this is his commandment, That we should believe on the name of his Son Jesus Christ, and love one another, as he gave us commandment." (I John 3:18, 23)

The following passages from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy, will also be included: "Love one another" (I John, iii, 23), is the most simple and profound counsel of the inspired writer . . . Love fulfills the law of Christian Science, and nothing

ETTA STACKPOLE JEWELER

Wouldn't you like to have one of those lovely blue-white diamonds from Etta Stackpole's? So would we, or we'd be glad to own any piece of jewelry or any other article in the store for here you will find only high class merchandise, things you'll be proud to own or to give. Of interest to Carmel people is the fact that Mrs. Stackpole showed her confidence in the future of the city by purchasing last summer a lovely home here. Mrs. Stackpole stands for the good of Carmel, and co-operation of merchants and citizens for the city's best interests.

BETTY JEAN DOWNING

Betty Jean Downing's shop on Ocean avenue is one of the year's additions to Carmel, although Miss Downing herself is a well known Carmelite and had had charge of a similar store in that location for some time. Miss Downing carries some lovely things in dresses, hats and novelties.

R. G. LEIDIG

Did we feel cheered when R. G. Leidig walked into the Sun office last spring? He brought a check with him for $2, and was the very first paid-in-advance subscriber to the new paper and has remained a staunch friend throughout the year. Mr. Leidig has recently equipped the Sun office with his Shur-Stop chemicals which lessen the hazard of fire to an appreciable extent.

He is going to tell you about the fire extinguishers himself, in the near future through the Sun columns.

HOMESTEAD CAFE

They call it a cafe, but honestly it's just like going to a big family reunion to have dinner at the Homestead. Mr. Barnett and son, Bill, are always on deck, but you have to look Mrs. Barnett up for she is in the kitchen seeing to the serving of the b-e-s-t meals. There's always a crackling fire in the fireplace and anyone who wishes may join in the general conversation. Any stranger who drops in leaves feeling that he has friends in Carmel and with a kindlier thought for Carmel folk. "We always get results from our Sun ads," say the Barnetts.

MISSION CLEANERS

Among our very first advertisers was the Mission Cleaners owned by C. E. May and wife. The newest and most important thing in Mr. and Mrs. May's lives the past year was the advent of a lovely son who has grown to be a remarkably beautiful child. The Mays have fenced in one of the windows at the cleaning establishment, and if you are lucky you have passed by when the baby was corralled therein, for you will have seen the most beautiful window decoration possible, and not to be excelled by any artist.

MERLE'S TREASURE SHOP

Major and Mrs. Hairs in Merle's Treasure Chest, have grown to be a part of the life of Carmel.

Their shop with its beautiful imported novelties, dishes, antiques, precious stones and such makes an addition to the city worthy of comment. You can't see all the pretty things here on one visit but must needs spend some time here to appreciate the many fine art pieces. Major Hairs was in Melbourne, Australia, when the Sun was started but came home in the Spring bringing with him some of the most beautiful things Carmel had ever seen.

SLEVIN'S

One of the most interesting stores in town is that of L. S. Slevin. Mr. Slevin has collections and he knows what he is doing. Here we have seen photos of California since its early days, which almost give the history of the state without words. And Mr. Slevin also has one of the finest stamp collections in the state, having many rare and beautiful specimens.

STANFORD'S DRUG STORE

"I can't see how anyone who has ever lived in Carmel could possibly live any place else," said "Doc" Stanford of the Stanford Drug Store. When the Stanfords came here nine years ago and bought out Dr. Beck, Mr. Stanford's company held his position open three months feeling sure he would come back, but not Doc. Here he intends to live and die. Stanford's is the pioneer drug store and stories of its early days read like legends. When Dr. Beck wanted to go down the street he left his store open and when he'd return he'd find money all over the counter, the people having gone in and helped themselves. And there is still such an atmosphere about the place that one would feel perfectly free to do that today.

CARMEL THEATRE

After the second issue of the Carmel Sun, J. A. Kuntzman, a new manager for the Carmel Theatre stopped in and ordered his ads run in the next issue and he has been a constant advertiser ever since. "I don't think the newspaper business is so hot," said Mr. Kuntzman. Well, we didn't think so ourselves, but Mr. Kuntzman's support made it hotter, and as Carmel Sun has grown, even so has the Carmel Theatre under Mr. Kuntzman's management. The Carmel Theatre has one of, if not the best machines on the peninsula, and the clear pictures combined with the luxurious chairs makes the theatre a fine place to drop into when you are tired as it rests both body and mind. For the past few months the Carmel theatre has been running an especially good line of pictures and the manager is to be congratulated.

PACIFIC TELEPHONE CO.

The Pacific Telephone company has SERVICE to offer its patrons and it is not afraid to advertise them. When the machinery for Carmel Sun was being set in place, before the first edition had been printed, Manager R. P. Sexton came to the office and promised his advertising. It was an encouragement we needed and appreciate. And during the past year we have had many occasions to appreciate service from the telephone company. Instead of the once "I'll call you when I have your party," the operator now says, "hold the line please," and the connection is made so quickly that the party you are calling does not realize he is wanted on "long distance." The local girls are efficient and courteous and deserving of praise. It is always a pleasure and a source of satisfaction to deal with District Manager Sexton or his able assistant in the local exchange Mrs. Newell.

DOLORES BAKERY

A valued friend of Carmel Sun is the Dolores Bakery. Mr. and Mrs. George Wishart will soon be celebrating the anniversary of their advent into Carmel, they having purchased the Dolores Bakery on March 14, 1931. Last year they advertised fresh apple pie and red cherry pie as a birthday special and was it delicious? A housewife can easily pass Dolores products as her own baking. Mr. and Mrs. Wishart came to Carmel from Monterey and have four children in Sunset school and the parents are members of the Carmel P. T. A.

"Because we use balanced baking, with everything carefully weighed and a high standard of materials, our products can be counted on as uniform," said Mr. Wishart. Mr. Wishart also said that if local people would support the local bakeries it would mean additional employment in Carmel instead of in some other town. A large ice box installed only recently makes it possible for the Dolores to serve a large variety to their customers at all times. The Wisharts are highly pleased with their steadily growing patronage.

DR. T. GRANT PHILLIPS

One of the earliest patrons of Carmel Sun is Dr. T. Grant Phillips and he has never missed a week since the insertion of his first professional card. Dr. Phillips is a graduate from the Los Angeles Chiropractic college and came to Carmel in 1930, locating in the Leidig building. Three months after he arrived, he took as his bride Miss Carol Taylor and brought his son, Tommy, here to enter Sunset school where he has become a very popular lad. Dr. Phillips has a steadily growing practice having won his clientele through satisfied patients. Dr. and Mrs. Phillips have taken their place in the social life of Carmel and for the past several months have made their home in the Highlands. Dr. and Mrs. Phillips last week went to Oakland to attend a state meeting of chiropractors.

RUSSIAN TEA ROOM

Now you have to say "Russian Tea Rooms," for there are two of them, the original in Carmel and a newer one in Monterey opposite the postoffice. A visit to Carmel would not be complete without a stop at the Russian Tea Room, now located next door to the library for here you will find the quaint things you look for when you go "shopping" in Carmel. Quaint things from far off Russia, from Paris, from Old Mexico and when you have browsed to your heart's content, you may be seated and have a glass of tea with jam, as the Russians take it, or just your own favorite way. Carmel people have a habit of dropping into the tea room for a chat and a cup of tea while on their way to the library. The Monterey tea room does not have gifts but offers the Russian foods, serving delicious dinners each evening and particularly catering to parties.

HERON'S BOOK STORE

If you like to browse among books, and who doesn't, you should visit the Heron Book Shop often, for you'll find many interesting old books and all the new books. Mr. Heron himself is an interesting character and has been identified with the history of Carmel since its early days.

LEIDIG'S GROCERY

One of the greatest improvements in the appearance of Ocean avenue during the past year was the remodeling of the Leidig Grocery Store, when in the late spring it was made into an open air market. The store is very attractive and though the prices are all shelf-marked, a courteous clerk is always at hand to wait on customers. The Leidig Grocery is one of the pioneer stores, having been established here sixteen years ago.

GRACE KINGSLAND DIXON

One of Carmel's newest ventures, if not the newest, is that of Grace Kingsland Dixon who has recently opened a real estate office on Ocean avenue, sharing room with the Little Pottery Shop. Although Mrs. Dixon has worked in real estate heretofore in Carmel, this is her first exclusive business. She at once recognized the value of Carmel Sun advertising.

FLORENCE TERRY

One of the cleverest artists among many different lines is Miss Florence Terry, who has the Little Pottery Shop on Ocean. Pen and ink drawings and lovely water colors supplement her dainty clay flowers made of finest imported materials on display in her shop. Carmel flowers are so reproduced in natural shape and colors that one feels as if the little pottery flowers must be natural. Miss Terry's flowers are such a new venture here that it has taken some time for the public to realize their true value but her little shop grows daily in popularity.

CALIFORNIA ANDREWS

One of Carmel's newest and daintiest shops is that of California Andrews who sells fine lingerie at the Little Log Cabin on Dolores. Miss Andrews is much pleased with the way her business has grown.

HOWARD MACTIER

While the editor of the Sun was begrimed from moving in and setting up machinery, a man walked into the shop and ordered an ad in the new paper in its first issue, and there has never been a copy of Carmel Sun that did not contain an ad from Howard Mactier, dealer in wood. The Sun folk have used Mr. Mactier's wood throughout the year and have always been pleased with it, as are so many other satisfied customers.

JOS. J. HITCHCOCK, JR.

With this issue of Carmel Sun, Joseph Hitchcock joins the regular advertisers. Mr. Hitchcock was born in Carmel Valley and except for a period in Oakland has spent his life here. Mr. Hitchcock with his family lives at La Siesta on Dolores; he has three children, two sons, one in Monterey, Union High and a little daughter in Sunset. For seventeen years Mr. Hitchcock has followed his trade of upholstery and when he puts a new top on a car it looks as if it had just come from the factory.

THE LUCCA

The advent of "The Lucca" closely followed that of the Sun and throughout the year Mrs. Duranti, the proprietor has remained a staunch friend of the paper. Mrs. Duranti has made a reputation here for her delightful Italian dishes and has dozens of customers for her tasty enchiladas. Since Mrs. Duranti's sons have recently come to live with her she has taken "Tree Top" on Dolores for her home. Her younger son, Charles, was recently stricken with a heart malady and may probably be confined to his bed for some time.

A. C. GRIMSHAW

Although one block off Ocean avenue the Associated Station enjoys a constant patronage, due in a large measure to Mr. Grimshaw's advertising policy and his policy of giving service with a smile. The latest piece of machinery Mr. Grimshaw has installed is a battery tester and charger, the very finest on the market. He can tell what the strength of each cell is and many other things heretofore a mystery. There is but one other such machine on the peninsula. Mr. Grimshaw has been serving the public with gas and other auto service at the Associated station at the corner of Fourth and San Carlos for the past four years.

A. D. H. PLUMBING CO.

October 10, 1932 saw the addition of the A. D. H. Plumbing shop to the list of Carmel businesses, the shop being located on Dolores between Fourth and Fifth. C. L. Wilder is the efficient local manager and he and his wife have made hosts of friends here. Mr. and Mrs. Wilder have one son in the eighth grade in Sunset and one son in high school. A group of friends from Salinas drove over last Sunday morning and at four o'clock they breakfasted at the Wilder home afterwards going down the coast for a few hours of fishing. Mr. and Mrs. Wilder thoroughly enjoy the outdoor advantages of the Carmel climate.

HI'S BARBER SHOP

"It pays to look well," so says Hi Anderson of Hi's Barber Shop and Hi has many satisfied customers who go to his shop regularly so that he may help them look well. Mr. Anderson has as his slogan, "As you like it," and makes every effort to please his patrons. Hi recently had a siege of rheumatism and was confined to his home for five weeks but is back on the job now and going good.

JACK AMMERMAN

Jack Ammerman was one of Carmel Sun's earliest advertisers and again enters our columns this week announcing his spring showing of tailormade suits. Mr. Ammerman has been with the Brighton Custom Tailors for the past eleven years and has won from his company his Golden Seal credentials.

We heartily thank these merchants. And we have had many other supporters, too. Our books show letterheads, envelopes, etc. for many a Carmel resident and many, many others have gladdened our hearts by subscribing to the paper. And we also thank those who have encouraged and cheered us throughout the year with helpful words and kindly suggestions. We start a new year. We try to do the best we can, as we see it. We have made mistakes and shall do so again as we are but human. We ask your forbearance.
